PREFACE.

A few years since (in 1897) a little book was published, entitled: "Born, Married and Died, in Sharon, Conn." It was a record of the births, marriages and deaths gathered from old books of land records in the Sharon Town Clerk's Office. So few deaths, however, were recorded there that the book was not exactly what its title implied, and the promise was made that another should follow, giving records found on the headstones in the several places of burial in the township.

While the inscriptions were being collected, a friend suggested that, inasmuch as there had been frequent intermarriages between people residing in Sharon and those of the adjoining towns of Amenia and North East, in New York state, the inscriptions to be found in those towns should be added, since it would materially increase the value of the work.

This has been done, and the book now offered contains the records found in the many places of burial scattered over an area of not less than twenty miles square, of adjacent territory, lying on both sides of the line dividing the States of New York and Connecticut.

To the friend to whom we allude, the entire credit is due for that portion of the work relating to inscriptions found on the New York side of the line. It a source of regret to the writer that this friend may not be mentioned by name in order that the readers of this volume might know to whom they are indebted for this last mentioned labor.

The full texts of the inscriptions are not given, since this would make the book too large and expensive. Care, however, has been taken to give the names, dates and ages correctly, and the book is believed to be as free from errors as the average of such efforts. The inscriptions from each burying ground are printed together, with a brief description of their locality, and the condition of the headstones at the present time.

The only index thought necessary is one giving the names and localities of the several burying grounds. The names will be found in alphabetical order.

It is hoped and expected that a sufficient number of books will be sold to repay the cash outlay. The labor has been one of love, for which no better remuneration is asked than that derived from the satisfaction of being the means of preserving valuable records, which would otherwise soon be lost entirely.

To some it is impossible to explain why such a work is undertaken, but there are others who appreciate efforts of this kind. To the latter class this book is respectfully dedicated.

L. VAN ALSTYNE,

SHARON, CONN.

THE SHARON BURYING GROUND.

THE "Sharon Burying Ground," as originally laid out, is only a small part of what has since been called "Hillside Cemetery." Just when it was first used for a burying ground, or from whom the land was purchased does not now appear.

The first entry in our first book of record reads:

"THE FIRST TOWN MEETING.

The Inhabitance of Sharon aplying Them Selves to the genral asembly in october Last Past for Town Priviledges Cap Dunham Was mad Choice of to Represent the Town to the Asembly to Warn the Inhabitance to meet to gather in order To Chuse town officers Which Being dune the Inhabitance being met on the 11 Day of December In ye year 1739 at the house of Nath'll Skinner In Sharon And then opened the meeting as the Law directs."

Among the recorded doings of the above said meeting is the following: "Nath Skinner and Lew Jabez Creppen chosen a Com'tt to Lay out A Beuring Place."

If this committee made a report the records do not show it, but it is quite likely that the plot of ground at the north end of Sharon Street, now called the old part of the burying ground was the one laid out by the above said committee, and not long after the above said meeting.

From time to time, as necessity had called for it, the original plot has been added to, until it has assumed its present proportions. It is one of ten or more different places that either have been or are now used as places of burial in Sharon Township.

The site was well chosen, so well in fact that no one has been able to suggest a better one. It is beautifully situated and admirably adapted to the use for which it was set apart. Until 1851 it was a grazing ground for sheep, cattle and swine that ran in the streets. In that year the Sharon Burying Ground Association was organized, and the neat and well kept appearance of the cemetery is due to their efforts.

A partner's heart the deep impression wears;
Thy orphans oft, around this hallowed earth,
Shall tell a father's love with speaking tears.
And numerous friends who swelled the tide of grief,
Thy great and generous deeds shall oft relate;
Thus through revolving years thy name shall live,
'Till to immortal life, this slumbering dust shall wake."

HOLMES, Henry, d. May 19, 1887. "Free at Last."

Henry Holmes was probably about 70 years old at the time of his death. He was born a slave and so remained until freed by the "Civil War." He was last owned by a cotton planter in Louisiana from whom he took his name. He came north in the winter of 1894–5 and lived nearly all the remainder of his life in Sharon. He was a Methodist and was buried from that church. The ministers from both the other churches attended and requested the privilege of taking part in the services. They each in their turn gave testimony to the help and encouragement they had received from the words and example of this good old man. He was entirely self-supporting and at his death it was found he had laid by a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of his burial and to pay for the enduring monument which marks his grave in Hillside Cemetery.

THE PINE SWAMP BURYING GROUND.

Having heard it called the Pine Swamp Burying Ground it is given that title, yet there is nothing about the neighborhood to suggest the name. It is located on the left hand side of the road as one goes from Sharon to West Cornwall, on ground high and dry. A more fitting name would be the Smith Burying Ground, there being many of that name buried there.

THE CARTWRIGHT BURYING GROUND.

This burying ground is known as the Cartwright Burying Ground, from the fact that people of that name owned the land all about it, and many of them are buried there. It is on Sharon Mountain, and the road leading past it is known as Ellsworth East Street. It is well fenced and very well cared for, and is still used as a place of burial.

THE BOLAND DISTRICT BURYING GROUND.

This burying ground is about half way between Sharon and Amenia Union. It is generally called the Boland District Burying Ground, the Bolands once owning the land round about, and many of them being buried there. It is on a sandy knoll on the west side of the road, and is well cared for. It is one of the oldest burying grounds in the town, as shown by the inscriptions copied from it.

THE MALCUIT FARM BURYING GROUND.

On the farm of Charles Malcuit, on Sharon Mountain, in a pasture field, are two headstones inscribed as below. There are evidences of many graves that are not marked, but no one seems to remember any more about it than can now be discovered by a visit to it. It is large in area for a family burying ground, and doubtless was a neighborhood affair, before the one in the "Cartwright neighborhood" was used.

CARTWRIGHT, Samuel, s. of Samuel and Abiel, d. Feb. 9, 1774, ae. 11 mos., 9 dys.

HUTCHINSON, Mr. Ezra, d. Feb. 28, 1799, ae. 40.

BURYING GROUND IN TICKNOR'S WOODS.

On the north side of the road leading from Ellsworth, East Street, to Ellsworth proper, is the original burying ground of the Ellsworth society.

When it was first used for that purpose is not known now. The last burial there was a daughter of Joseph Lord, Esq., and was probably not far from 1778. The grave being filled with water so impressed Mr. Lord with the necessity for a more suitable place of burial that he immediately gave the society the land for the present Ellsworth Cemetery. He died in 1778, and his headstone recites the fact that he was the first person buried in the ground he had given.

A forest of trees now covers the old place of burial, among which the rows of graves yet show. Many of them are marked by stones native to the place, only two having headstones with inscriptions. It would be interesting to know the names of these silent sleepers, but for that we must wait till the graves are opened and the dead arise. The two inscriptions found are:

ROBERTS, Mr. Mark, d. Feb. 17, 1767, in his 84th yr.
ROBERTS, Mr. Nathaniel, d. Jan. 16, 1766, in his 55th yr.
Mr. Samuel Everett of Ellsworth says that the following were buried in this place: Adonijah Maxam, Amos Sanford, Joseph Lovell, Nathaniel Chapman, Deborah Lord, wife of Isaiah Everett and dau. of Joseph Lord, Esq.

THE AMENIA UNION BURYING GROUND

CONNECTICUT SIDE.

This distinction is made so as not to confound it with another burying ground at Amenia Union, and which is on the New York side of the line. It is on the outskirts of the village, on the road leading to Skiff Mountain. It is new as compared with the one on the New York side. It is kept in very good order. The inscriptions are:

THE ELLSWORTH BURYING GROUND.

This ground was given to the Ellsworth Society by Joseph Lord, Esq., and his headstone recites the fact that he was the first to be buried in it.

It is the common place of burial for a large section of the country roundabout. It has the appearance of being well kept and cared for. The headstones are in an upright position and the few that have become broken have been neatly repaired. It lies on the south side of the road between the two churches.

THE SKIFF MOUNTAIN BURYING GROUND.

This burying ground is in Kent, but near the Sharon line. Some Sharon people are buried there, and for that reason it is included among the Sharon cemeteries.

There are as many, and perhaps more, graves without headstones as with, and no record has been kept to show who are buried in them. The ground is kept in fair condition, but several headstones have fallen flat to the ground.

THE AMENIA BURYING GROUND.

The old CEMETERY of Amenia lies about a mile north-east of the present village. The Church Society to which it belonged was called "Carmel in the Nine Partners;" the building went by the name of the "Red Meeting House." The land for both was donated by Stephen Hopkins.

All traces of the old church have long since disappeared, but the men who built it, and who worshipped in it lie in the little crowded Cemetery. It is to preserve their names inscribed on the rapidly disintegrating stones that this record is made.

With a few exceptions, there have been no burials in this ground for nearly forty years. At one time it was greatly neglected, but now it is in good hands, and will be cared for in the future. Even the best of care cannot restore the fading lines of the quaint old inscriptions, nor bring to light the missing names on some of the broken stones. There are two or three so broken that nothing remains by which to identify them.

May this a sollum warning be
That you must quickly follow me."

THE AMENIA UNION CEMETERY.

In the beautiful sunny spot a short distance west of Amenia Union, lie many of the early settlers of the "Oblong" valley. The cemetery, though one of the oldest in the town, the earliest stone being inscribed 1749, is still used for burials, being in excellent order, and well cared for.

The "Oblong" church, where Rev. Mr. Knibloe preached so many years, stood on the hill east of this burying ground, almost on the Connecticut boundary line, many of his congregation coming from Connecticut. Amenia Union is sometimes called "Hitchcock Corners."

BURYING GROUND AT THE "STEEL WORKS."

This is a small enclosure on the hillside above the "Steel Works," on the old road, half way between South Amenia and Wassaic. Here was buried in 1746, Mr. Richard Sackett, the earliest settler of Amenia. The stone that marked the spot has long since disappeared. The whole place is shamefully neglected.

BURYING GROUND AT SOUTH AMENIA.

This Burying Ground is on the south side of the road, about midway between Amenia Union and South Amenia, near the site of the church built in 1786, from the remains of the "Round Top Meeting House," of Amenia Union, which for some reason was taken down at that time.

This Church has since given place to a third, called the "New Church of South Amenia."

Some of the headstones in this burying ground bear an earlier date than that of the erection of the Church, but this may indicate removals from other places.

The ground is well kept and cared for, and is one of the largest in the town.

SPENCER'S CORNERS BURYING GROUND.

A short distance north-east of Millerton is the old Cemetery of Spencer's Corners. The church to which it belonged, and of which not a vestige remains, was formed by Simon Dakin in 1751. This church was the stronghold of the Baptists in Amenia, and one of the most important in the New York Colony.

This burying ground is in good order and well cared for by the people of Millerton.

From Smith's History of Dutchess County, pp. 252–3: "Nov. 6, 1751, nine persons constituted themselves into a Baptist Church in the Philipse Patent, now Putnam County. Here they were much disturbed by outside trouble. They were invited to remove to North East Precinct. The pastor and others visited this locality, and were pursuaded that 'God was calling them to go up and possess the land.' Here the cosy log-cabin overflowed with plenty, and here no standing order could bind the conscience. The reasons for removal seemed so weighty, and the invitation so cordial, that it was decided the change should be at once made. Previous to removal, however, they dismissed several of their number to form another church in the vicinity, over which Brother Cole was ordained as pastor. On the 1st day of May, 1773, they held their first covenant meeting in Northeast at the home of Rev. Simon Dakin, pastor, near 'Spencer's Clearing.' Here again they set up their banner, and for three years held public, religious services. * * * In 1776, they prepared to build a sanctuary. Simon Dakin, their pastor, donated them the land now occupied by the old grave yard at Spencer's Corners and on this they laid the foundation. * * * After Elder Simon Dakin had served the church for nearly 30 years, he was permitted in 1782 to see the greatest revival known under his ministry. He baptized thirty-one candidates during that year. In 1786, a single case of 'woman's rights' was brought before the church, and a sister was excluded for not obeying her husband, and usurping authority over him. A serious division of sentiment occurred the following year, and a council met at their house of worship to advise with them. As a result fifteen were dismissed to form a new church, which they did at what is now Northeast Centre, on ground now occupied by the Methodists. In 1797 the church so many years blessed in the ministrations of Brother Dakin followed sadly his remains to their last resting place."

WINCHELL MOUNTAIN BURYING GROUND.

This burying ground is on the top of Winchell Mountain, on the south side of the road leading from Millerton to Pine Plains. A few of the stones have fallen, but the place is clear of brush and otherwise well kept.

NORTH EAST CENTER BURYING GROUND.

This small ground is on the east side of the road running south from Millerton, and near "Alexander Neely's." It is overgrown with bushes and greatly neglected, many of the stones being down, and the whole place full of briars.

The two private plots, "Goodrich" and "Lee," in same enclosure, are in very fair condition.

MORAVIAN BURYING GROUND.

Only two headstones remain, of the many that once stood in the burying ground near the Mission House of the "United Brethren," at "Sichem in the Oblong." The inscriptions on them read Mary, wife of James Alworth, d. Feb. 24, 1794, in her 80th yr., and Ezariah Smith, d. Oct. —, 1784, ae. 67. A friend has furnished another, copied some 35 years ago, but which has since disappeared—James Alworth, d. ——, 1786, ae. 73. This old burying ground was on the Hiram Clark farm, near the western shore of Wequadnach (Indian Pond).

On the Connecticut, or eastern shore of the lake was the village of the Wequadnach Tribe, and here, exactly over his grave, stands the Monument erected by the Moravian Historical Society, to perpetuate the memory of David Bruce, an early Missionary among them. It reads: "David Bruce, A Minister of the Gospel in the Church of the United Brethren, from Edinburgh in Scotland, Died July 9, 1749, at the Wequadnach Mission, Dutchess County, N. Y." The opposite face records the death of Joseph Powell, a later Missionary, who is buried at Sichem, and reads: "Joseph Powell, a Minister of the Gospel, in the Church of the United Brethren, Born 1710, near Whitechurch, Shropshire, England, Died Sept. 23, 1774, at "Sichem in the Oblong."

VAN ALSTYNE BURYING GROUND.

In the absence of any name it is given the above, which may be as appropriate as another, from the fact that the family owned the farm of which it is a part, and were among the first to be buried in it.

William Van Alstyne was the first of the name in Dutchess County, and at one time his descendants were numerous. Only a memory of them remains now; not one bearing the name, and only one descendant by any name is to be found in the County today.

"Requiem aeternan dona eis Domine."

SMITHFIELD BURYING GROUND.

The burying ground at Smithfield, or "The City," as it is called, is situated on the opposite side of the road from the church of the same name. It is quite old, many of the inscriptions being nearly illegible. A large sum of money has been spent during the last few years in clearing the ground from underbrush, setting up fallen head-stones, etc., showing a great interest in preserving these old records. There was formerly another burying ground, older than this, adjoining the church.

THE AMENIA ISLAND CEMETERY.

Amenia Island Cemetery needs little description here. It is a well-chosen spot, tastefully laid out, and under excellent management. During the past few years there have been a number of removals from the older Cemeteries to this one, which fact may enhance the value of these inscriptions to the searcher. This Cemetery lies on the east side of the village, not very far from the railroad station.

THE IRONDALE CEMETERY

AT MILLERTON.

This, the youngest of the Amenia Cemeteries, bids fair to become the most attractive of all. It is not large, but is very tastefully laid out, and most admirably kept, and reflects great credit to one of the citizens of Millerton.

BETHEL CEMETERY.

The four burying grounds at Bethel belong properly to Pine Plains, but as a few Amenia people are buried in them, it seems fitting that they should be included in this list.

The ground on the east side of the road is called the "Rowe Cemetery," and belongs by deed of gift to the "Rowe Family." It includes the site of the "Round Top Lutheran Church." The small enclosure adjoining it on the east is a private one. The ground on the west side of the road is used as a burial place for the neighborhood.

The Quaker burying ground is a small one lying east of the old Quaker Meeting House. For further description of these Cemeteries see Mr. Isaac Huntting's "Little Nine Partners."
